

6516206620.txt

I believe that in this society, if you are willing to pay to utilize a service, that service should have no boundaries as it is not a free service. We allow programs on cable that are not allowed on television because it is a paid for service. People can control what they see and hear if they choose to buy the service or not.

Satellite radio is a great invention. I hate listening to commercials and will continue to pay for a service that does not have them.

Natalie Smith